WAS interested to hear the other day that Lily Pedroso had received the "Croix de Guerre." At first reading the name Lily Pedroso may not seen much to you, but when I remind out of who she is and who her mother out of who she is and who her mother as I am sure you will be interested. of who she is and who her mother I am sure you will be interested you remember Miss Camille Berghmans, who was the granddaugh-ter of the late Charles Macalester, of resdale? She came out in this city

ter of the inte Charles Machicster, of Torresdale? She came out in this city many years ago, and was a great belie, and those who know tell me of her beautiful wedding out at Gleugarry, Torresdale, when she became the bride of the Marquis de Pedroso, then Senor de Pedroso, an attache of the Spanish Legation at Washington.

They went to Spain to live, and the Marquis died there some years ago, leaving his widow and a son and a daughter. The son is the present Marquis de Pedroso, and Lily is the daughter. The Marquis and his wife came ever here about eight years ago, and every one was delighted to see "Camille Berghman's" son and his very beautiful wife. They spent a winter in this city and traveled about quite a bit. The former Miss Berghmans and her son and daughter now live in Biarritz.

Lily has not been in America since she was a very little girl, but I have been told by those who knew her that she was a singularly intelligent and ly child.

It seems that during the recent war, though a Spanish subject, Lily rendered distinguished service as a nurse in the French Army, and both Spanish ish and French newspapers have reached friends of the Pedrosos in this country telling that she has been given the "Croix de Guerre," with the following citation, which is rather lit-

A nurse of the first class, endowed with the best professional qualities. Of a foreign nationality, she put spontaneously and generously from the outbreak of hostilities her zeal and her devotion to the service of France. Bent at her request among the sanitary organizations at the front, she gave the finest proofs of courage, coolness and of abnegation, notably during the course of the bombardment of Complegne in March, 1918, continuing in contempt of danger to lavish her cares upon our wounded.

GENERAL HERGAULT. GENERAL HERGAULT,

Chief of the Cabinet of the Ministers of War.

In commenting upon the award, one of the French newspapers say that this citation testifies to the high distinction of the young girl better than the most eloquent tributes. She joined the highest and rarest qualities of spirit and beart in her role of nurse, not only in the hospitals of Biarritz but in the zone of "Lee Armess". "Les Armees."
Nor has Lily Pedroso stopped her good work among the sick and wounded. She is still pursuing her mission of devotion at Malaga among the wounded soldiers of the Moroccan campaign. I hope some day in the near future she and her mother will make a trip to this side of the ocean and give their old an opportunity to see them

DID I tell you of the engagement of Elizabeth Tatnall to William Powers, of Ohio? It was announced a day or two ago. Elizabeth is a daugh-ter of the late Mr. William Francis

THEY took Dannie out for dinner the other night well-cautioned as to behavior and be had a beautiful time. When it came to desert there was to cream and lovely cake with beautiful mooth icing on it. Dannie at his ice cream with relish and finished it before the cake, so when the maid came to take his plate for more, he seemed to held an inward confab with himself, as to whether or not he'd cat that piece of sike or let the plate go and probably gt another piece. Finally he let the plate be taken for more ice cream, but when Mary brought it back the cake was unchanged, "Unph," said Dannie, Miss and Mr. S. Washes and Dr. B. Ritters butter, Mr. B. Wachs, Mr. B.
